VOL. 46, NO. 3

Around the Square

Justice was cold as well as relentless in Sierra Madre Saturday. Just outside the (brrr!) chilly court chambers in the City Hall at 10 a.m., the following remarks were overheard.

Officer H. S. Embree: "We're really going to put them on ice in there this morning."

Mrs. Eliese Rickman, court clerk: "It will be just like a trip to the Klondike."

We're holding our editorial breath these days, hoping that walls and walkways are completed on the Kersting Court Triangle in time for Christmas decorations.

Here are a few figures you can mull over if you like: As of Nov. 1, the government has taken in $16,337,427.475. The government has spent $20,737,735,072. The public debt is $258,116,321.818. Each citizen owes $1666.95.

It certainly would be nice (yawn) if something could be done about the length of City Council meetings. Tuesday night's droned on until after 10:30.

Councilman Lawrence Washburn came to the meeting Tuesday nattily wearing brilliant red suspenders and a yellow vest with green and red checks. There was no hint, though, that the other city fathers will accept this ensemble as the fashion lead.

CHURCH IDEA WINS CONTEST FOR DECORATING TRIANGLE

Erecting a miniature church was selected yesterday by the Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association as the best idea for decorating the Kersting Court Triangle. The winning idea was submitted by Mrs. J. Sheridan Shearer of 73 Esperanza. The merchants stipulated, however, that although the church idea was the best Mrs. Shearer must work with the decorations committee in presenting a "workable, practical plan" for putting the suggestion into effect.

"We feel the plan selected best exemplifies Christmas in Sierra Madre," said Harold Stein, president of the association. "And we now anticipate the cooperation of all Sierra Madreans in carrying out the idea."

Mrs. Harold Roberts, who headed up the contest committee, said the merchants wish to thank citizens for the many entrants. "We certainly appreciate the time they put in on sketches and ideas," she added.

Working with Mrs. Shearer in determining whether her idea can be developed practically will be Mrs. Roberts, Larry Garland, John Rassmussen, and the four contest judges, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred James Dewey and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Weese.

Mrs. Shearer, who will win a $25 merchandising order good at any Sierra Madre store, pointed out that her forefathers, Marne Copps and

Election Tuesday On School Issues

Sierra Madre voters will go to the polls Tuesday, Dec. 4, to decide three issues comprising a $125,000 City School bond election. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Only one balloting station has been designated for this election—the City Elementary School, 141 W. Highland.

Purpose of the election is to satisfy a legal technicality only and, although members of the School Board are not allowed to express an opinion, there are no known backers for any of the three ballot proposals. By merely having the election, requirements of the Field Act are met regarding personal liability of board members for claims arising from earthquake damage.

Unofficial speakers have appeared recently at meetings of many Sierra Madre organizations, all advocating "no" votes on the three issues. In addition, a citizens' committee last week circulated an open letter explaining why the election is being held and assuring voters that the present school building "is in a very satisfactory condition and that it is fully capable of withstanding the force of a moderate earthquake." This letter, signed by 10 prominent citizens, also urged defeat of all three propositions.

On their ballots next Tuesday, voters will find the following propositions:

"PROPOSITION NO. 1: Shall the Sierra Madre City School District of Los Angeles County, California, incur a bonded indebtedness of $125,000 to provide funds for the purposes of repairing, reconstructing, or replacing the main classroom wings, the auditorium, and the cafeteria units of the Sierra

Col. Morrison To Head ARC Fund Drive

Col. Charles E. Morrison (ret.) of 39 W. Orange Grove has been appointed chairman of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter's 1952 fund campaign.

Making the appointment this week was R. C. Lewis, chapter chairman.

Colonel Morrison, who is active in the Sierra Madre Civil Defense Council, is a first aid instructor for the Red Cross. The chapter's annual fund drive is held during the month of March.

Radio Show To Quote Robertson

Postmaster Eddie Robertson's Christmas mailing advice will be aired nationally next Monday, Dec. 3, over the radio show, "One Man's Family."

The Sierra Madre postal official's tips on early mailing of overseas packages and repainting house numbers for the convenience of mailmen will be included in dialogue of the program.

Although the broadcast will not mention Sierra Madre specifically, it will use Mr. Robertson's name. Southlanders knowing the local postmaster, therefore, will connect Sierra Madre with the nation-wide publicity.

"One Man's Family" is broadcast over Station KFI from 8 to 8:15 p.m. Mondays. Included in the program's cast are the familiar Henry Barbour, Hazel, Pinkie, and Fanny.

During the show, Mr. Robertson is expected to be quoted as saying that the post office has been flooded with overseas packages for weeks, and that he hopes people won't wait until the last minute for the rest of it.

The postmaster's advice on keeping house numbers clearly marked will be paraphrased by Hazel.

Young GOP Club to Get Charter

The Young Republican Club of Sierra Madre will meet this evening, Nov. 29, at 8 o'clock to formally receive its charter. The meeting will be held in the City Parkhouse.

Allan Kotler, president of the Los Angeles County Young Republican Club, will present the charter to the local club. Future meetings of the group will be held on the third Thursdays of each month at the Parkhouse. The public is invited.

Fox Faces Drunk Driving Trial This Saturday

Pleading not guilty to charges of drunk driving, William Thurman Fox, 14 W. Alegria, will stand trial in Sierra Madre's city court Saturday morning.

Mr. Fox was released on his own recognizance following his arraignment early this week.

CHARLES JAMES, who attended his second council meeting Tuesday night following his appointment as a councilman to succeed Herman Barter on Nov. 13. Mr. James has been active on the Recreation Commission in Sierra Madre.

STREETS CLOSED TUESDAY FOR FINAL SEAL COATING

Sierra Madre's business district streets will be blocked off for half a day Tuesday, Dec. 4, while workmen of Warren Southwest Inc. apply a final seal coat. The streets—Baldwin from Montecito to Sierra Madre boulevard, the boulevard from Auburn to Baldwin, and Kersting from 7 a.m. to approximately noon. It is expected, however, that only half of the streets will be blocked off at a time.

City Administrator R. Merritt Baker advised merchants to reschedule any front-door deliveries they may be expecting during this time.

The final seal-coating operation will repair the "chewed-up" portions of the downtown streets which were damaged when traffic came in again too soon after what was to have been the last operation on Sept. 20.

E. O. Holabird, foreman of the construction firm, conferred this week with Mr. Baker in deciding to return and finish the job next Tuesday.

The seal coat will consist of oil and fine rock.

Mr. Baker asked the cooperation of Sierra Madreans in keeping off the streets until the official OK is given and the barriers removed. It was following this same seal-coating operation that the streets were first damaged.

TB Christmas Seal Dispensers Placed in Stores

Self-service TB Christmas Seal dispensers were distributed Monday to various stores, the bank, and Post Office in Sierra Madre, according to Mrs. Vern Eppard, local chairman.

The dispensers offer for sale an envelope containing 50 Christmas seals for 50 cents. Mrs. Eppard said these merchandisers are a part of the "supplemental" sales effort behind the traditional campaign to fight tuberculosis.

"This part of our program is designed to make Christmas seals available to those who want to buy them but who did not receive them through our mail campaign," explained Chairman Eppard.

The annual sale is sponsored by the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association. Working with Mrs. Eppard in the Sierra Madre campaign is Mrs. Ralph Welch.

I'M A NEPHEW, NOT A PROWLER, SAILOR SAYS

"Come quick," a woman called police. "The people next door are away, and I think someone's in the house now."

Sierra Madre officers sped to the scene, 258 E. Sierra Madre boulevard, but the "someone" already had left. They found traces of a person having been there recently, however, including a suitcase inscribed with the name, "Campbell."

When the police returned later they were confronted by a sailor who identified himself as James L. Malone, USN. He said he was a nephew of the people who live there (the Leonard Wammocks) and had come to visit during a Navy leave. Police said he had a key to the house.

"I'm willing to move out if the neighbors object, though," police quoted him as saying.

SEARCH STARTS FOR GIRL TO RIDE FLOAT

RESIDENTS TO HELP PICK SIERRA MADRE'S 'QUEEN'

A search started today to pick Sierra Madre's own "queen" to ride on the local Rose Parade float. Girls—residents of Sierra Madre and between the ages of 16 and 20—are asked to enter their names for consideration by next Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 5 p.m. They should submit their names and recent pictures to the NEWS office. The Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association is conducting the contest to select the girl who will reign as the "Goddess of Justice" on Sierra Madre's float which will depict the theme, "Let Justice Reign."

On Tuesday night, the merchants' committee will select three girls for a runoff election in which all Sierra Madreans may have a vote.

Pictures of the three final contestants will be published in next week's NEWS. Residents then may have from Thursday, Dec. 6, to Tuesday, Dec. 11, at noon, to vote on their choice.

To aid Sierra Madreans in making their selections, the three girls will appear on the stage of the Sierra Madre Theater Friday night, Dec. 7.

Official ballots may be obtained free, and with no obligation, from any member of the businessmen's association.

The election winner will be announced, with a picture, in the NEWS on Dec. 13.

"We're glad to be giving all residents a chance to elect their favorite girl to represent Sierra Madre on New Year's Day," said Harold Stein, president of the association. He pointed out that girls do not have to submit an expensive picture. "Even a snapshot will do," he stated.

Mr. Warden, as drive chairman, said that approximately $4300 has been collected so far—about $700 shy of the 1951 Community Fund Drive goal, $4928.56.

Lions to Hear Col. Thurber This Evening

Col. Walter D. Thurber will address the Sierra Madre Lions Club this evening, Nov. 29, speaking on the provocative subject, "Now Is the Time for All Good Men to—"

The Lions meet at 7:15 at the Woman's Clubhouse.

In previewing his talk this week, Colonel Thurber said he expects to draw a comparison "between the courage of early American settlers in meeting dangers skulking behind barns and cornered Americans facing equally treacherous enemies hiding behind the positions of high public trust and responsibility."

Colonel Thurber, who lives at 470 Manzanita, is a retired officer of the National Guard Reserve.

Coordinating Body To Meet Tuesday

A general meeting of the Sierra Madre Community Coordinating Council will be held Tuesday, Dec. 4, 8 p.m. at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Daniel I. D'Arcy, president, said several committee reports will feature the evening's business.

Brain Resigns; Warfel Appointed City Clerk

The resignation of City Clerk Lawrence B. (Buzz) Brain was accepted by the City Council Tuesday night. At the same time, Mrs. Marie Warfel was appointed to fill the office. Mr. Brain's leaving the city payroll had been rumored for several months, but his letter was formally received by the councilmen only this week. The letter also included resignations from his other two jobs, chief clerk of the water department, and city purchasing agent. He has held two of the three jobs since July of 1947.

Mr. Brain, whose resignation will become effective Saturday, Dec. 1, thanked the council, both past and present, "for the cooperation that has been given me."

"It is with regret that I leave this office to take a job that offers more advantages," Mr. Brain stated. "The cooperation of city employees is most satisfactory and without it, it would have been impossible to carry on the duties of this office."

Mr. Brain said he would continue to reside in Sierra Madre, "for the present at least."

Mrs. Warfel, who has been serving as deputy city clerk, now will have charge of the

Split Council Rules On Sideyard Law

On a 3-to-2 split vote, the City Council adopted Tuesday night a "clarifying" resolution regarding sideyard provisions of the zoning ordinance. Councilmen Noren Eaton and Charles James voted "no" on the resolution which rules that the 5-foot sideyard shall be measured from the property line to the building's foundation, not from the roof eaves.

The resolution, introduced by Councilman Henry Korsmeier, also stipulated that the projection of eaves shall not extend closer than 3 feet from the property line.

"That's one of the reasons why the building situation in Sierra Madre is what it is," declared Councilman Eaton in explaining his "no" vote. "Certain city officials are volunteering information and interpretations . . . and this is not right. The council has no right to authorize people to break the law. . . . The council has no right to change the ordinance which the building inspector should have read. If so, amend it in the correct manner, not by resolution."

Mr. Eaton said the zoning ordinance defines a sideyard as an area of 5 feet unobstructed from the ground to the sky.

City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn disagreed with Mr. Eaton's interpretation and said it is "the universal interpretation that

CAMPFIRE BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS, HEARS REPORTS

Services Held Monday for Mrs. Inouye

Kimiko Virginia Inouye, 31, who lived almost all her life in Sierra Madre, died Wednesday, Nov. 21, in a San Francisco hospital.

Funeral services for the young mother were held at Bethany Church Monday afternoon, with three ministers officiating. A wake had been held Sunday evening at Grant Chapel.

Mrs. Inouye had been ill for several months. Her husband, 1st Lt. Masato Inouye, a military intelligence officer with the U.S. Army, was at his wife's bedside throughout most of the illness after he was granted an emergency leave from his assignment in Tokyo where he served as an interpreter for Gen. Matthew Ridgway.

Although a native of San Diego, Mrs. Inouye spent most of her life in Sierra Madre and her home address was 207 N. Grove.

She was the daughter of a prominent, old-time Sierra Madre couple, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Shimizu. She was a member of Bethany Church and of the Sierra Madre Parent-Teacher Association.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Inouye have two daughters, Jeanne and Joyce. Mrs. Inouye also leaves a brother, Dr. George K. Shimizu of Guadalupe, Calif.

The army officer has been assigned to the G-2 Section of the 6th Army Headquarters in San Francisco since his return to the United States.

Among the many letters and telegrams of sympathy received by the family was a wire from General Ridgway.

Officiating at the rites Monday were the Rev. Don B. Rood, the Rev. Donald Toriumi, and the Rev. Tingoro Kokubun. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery.

Local Man's Charge Astounds Court

Possibly the most astounding charge to enter a local court was heard yesterday in this city. The charge, instigated by a local businessman, was not the first made by this gentleman. He has been making similar astoundingly low charges since he first opened his upholstery business in this city, namely, The Drapery Shop, at 31 North Baldwin.

The most recent charge was for the reupholstering of a chair that had eaten too much, more commonly known as an overstuffed chair. The court astounded by the charge was Michael's Auto Court.

The conscientious owner of this upholstery company comments as follows: "Don't let just anyone pull your leg—let us do it." (Chair leg, of course). The phone number is CUster 5-1255.

Vets Needn't Be VFWers To Win Farm

Veterans need not be V.F.W. members to be eligible to win a $50,000 irrigated farm in Eastern Washington.

That assurance was given today by Larry Shepherd, commander of V.F.W. Post 3208, Veterans of Foreign Wars in Sierra Madre.

The V.F.W. is conducting a nation-wide search for the most deserving farm veteran to receive, free, an 80-acre farm on the Columbia Basin project. Applications may be submitted by any World War II or Korea veteran who meets requirements prescribed by the V.F.W. national headquarters.

Commander Shepherd urged other veteran organizations to make the search known to their own members.

The 80-acre model farm offered as the grand prize is today a sagebrush-covered waste. However, it will be transformed into a completely planted and irrigated farm in a single day with the initial flow of Columbia river water through Grand Coulee Dam next May. The land will be cleared, planted and a three-bedroom home and other farm buildings constructed. Then furniture and farm equipment will be moved in and the completed "Farm-In-A-Day" presented to the country's "most worthy farm veteran" during a five-day celebration.

Complete information may be obtained from V.F.W. Committee Chairman Ralph Burns at 41 N. Baldwin avenue.

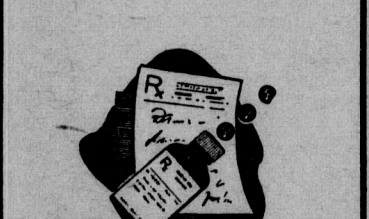

Entries must be filed with the local V.F.W. Post not later than Jan. 15.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Girl Scout Planning Board will meet today at 4 p.m. at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Twenty girls from Troop 15 spent a night at the Riders and Hikers Camp near Sierra Madre Villa. They were the first Scouts from Sierra Madre to use this camp. Mrs. Ruth Howe went along as a nurse in case of accident, and Mrs. Dorothy Mack, Mrs. Norma Lauder, Mrs. Dorothy Draeger and Mrs. Pat Haymaker helped with the setting up of the camp.

The girls cooked dinner and breakfast and worked on several of their badges. Dinner, which consisted of Chinese mystery, a ground meat and noodle dish, and cinnamon apples, was voted an excellent camp meal.

Troop 14 has made nearly two dozen Indian dolls to be sent as Christmas gifts to the Children's Hospital.

Troop 13 spent two nights of their Thanksgiving holiday at Camp Miller in Big Dalton Canyon. Twenty-three girls, including three older Scouts from

The agreement, which all school districts of the state are signing, ties in civilian defense activities with the facilities of the various school districts.

EASTERN STAR INDUCTS NEW OFFICERS

Installation exercises will be held at the December 3 meeting of the Order of Eastern Star at Masonic Temple. Installing Marshal is Olive Fowler, Past Matron of the Sierra Madre Chapter. Marshal is Lella Roberts. During the evening's ceremonies, Amy Kirschner, soprano, of Arcadia, will be featured as soloist.

Mrs. Ethel Munsterman's troop and three leaders, Mrs. Mack, Mrs. Martha Arnold and Mrs. B. Haney, made the encampment. They used the main lodge and two outside cabins for sleeping. The entire group hiked to Sycamore Flats and the Scouts collected specimen rocks for their rock collection.

An Editorial:

NEWS URGES 'NO' VOTES ON ALL THREE PROPOSALS

A misunderstanding of the purpose of next Tuesday's school bond election could cost Sierra Madre taxpayers a needless $125,000.

Let's remember that virtually no one wants any of the three ballot proposals to pass. You are NOT voting against the school if you reject the three proposals. In fact, in our opinion the opposite is true. Passing one or more of the issues will constitute a definite DISSERVICE to the school.

The $125,000 which is asked to "earthquake-proof" the school building would be better used at some future date for constructing more classrooms. The present building is considered structurally in "very satisfactory condition" and is fully capable of withstanding a moderate earthquake.

Keep in mind that the only reason for this election is to remove the personal liability of School Board members—that is, to get them off the legal "hook." The unusually rigid requirements of the Field Act make school trustees carry an unlimited personal liability for earthquake damage claims unless the voters have a chance to decide whether the rehabilitating work is necessary. The county counsel, the State Division of School Architecture, and the local school architects all are said to have declared the present building safe.

By voting down not just one, nor two, but all three of the propositions next Tuesday, requirements of the law will have been met.

The NEWS urges all registered voters in the Sierra Madre City School District to go to the polls Tuesday and vote NO on the three measures:

1. Bonds.....No
2. Tax Increase.....No
3. Abandonment of the School Building.....No

'AN INDIAN SUMMER COMES AT LAST'

—ADELINE WHITNEY

INDIAN SUMMER—SOFT, SUNNY DAYS OF LATE FALL, WITH AN APRIL MILDNESS IN THE AIR.

AS WE PREPARE FOR THE AUTUMN OF OUR LIVES, WE, IN AMERICA, ARE CONSTANTLY STRIVING, THROUGH THE CULTIVATION OF CULTURAL AND MORE ACTIVE INTERESTS, AND THROUGH ATTENTION TO HEALTH, TO PROVIDE GREATER SATISFACTIONS FOR OUR YEARS OF RETIREMENT.

WITH FORESIGHT AND THRIFT, WE CAN, THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS, CREATE THE FINANCIAL MEANS TO ASSURE THOSE SATISFACTIONS, GIVING AN 'INDIAN SUMMER' QUALITY TO OUR LATER DAYS.

How About 'Carter Square'?

Latest suggestion for naming the Kersting Court Triangle was made this week by Francis Eakman, 194 Mariposa.

"Let's call it 'Carter Square,'" Mr. Eakman said.

N. C. Carter was the founder of Sierra Madre, and he first subdivided the 1100 acres of land for the handful of families which were Sierra Madre's first settlers.

"I know, the island area isn't really a square, but 'Carter Triangle' doesn't sound as good as 'Carter Square,'" Mr. Eakman pointed out.

EAKMAN ASKS BAZAAR ITEMS

Plans are going ahead for the Monrovia Elks Annual Charity Bazaar, to be held Dec. 17, to build up the Elks' fund for needy children and for sanitarium shows.

Francis Eakman, 194 Mariposa, is Sierra Madre chairman for the event. He asks that Sierra Madreans wishing to donate items for the bazaar contact him. Such things as cigarettes, cigars, baskets of food, and auto accessories are needed.

CRAFTY MANCO ELUDES DETERMINED HUNTERS

CHAPTER VI

Three or four years passed by, during which Manco entered and re-entered the matrimonial state, had numerous fights with rival lovers, and several narrow (though none so narrow as his first), escapes from men. He had acquired such a knowledge of the ways of men that he was known far and wide on the "Little Mule" as the wisest and craftiest old buck on the range. On many occasions hunters had started with the sole intention of bringing him in, passing by larger and better heads, but so far he had always managed to elude them.

There was one man, Bud Taylor, however, who was to the deer family, a really dangerous man. From long observation, he was so familiar with their habits as to almost with a certainty foretell under different circumstances how a deer would act; moreover, he was as tireless as a hound, crafty and a crack shot.

On several occasions he had tried to kill the lame buck but some way or other he was always fooled, and as far as Taylor was concerned, there was only one deer that was really worth killing on all the two hemispheres, and that was El Manco.

One day in the summer when work was a little slack he decided to go out and bring him in. Early the next morning, mounted on a mule, he was on his way to that particular spot of the hills where this deer ranged. He was armed with his trusty 38-55 Marlin, and carried, besides, a little bread and jerky, and his canteen. Just before reaching El Manco's range he dismounted, unsaddled, hopped his mule and struck out for a little divide. He reached the summit and walked briskly along for some time, until he finally struck the trail he was looking for.

Bud looked at it and the surrounding country for some time. The deer was not loitering; there were no signs of his stopping to feed, neither was he alarmed, for he was not traveling faster than a walk. He was evidently traveling with a definite object in view, so Bud came to the conclusion that he had been feeding during the night, watered at dawn and then went straight to his sleeping place.

He took the trail again, walking fast, but being careful to look all the ground over well as he advanced. Every time he came to a ridge or a saddle, he would take his hat off, creep carefully up, and before crossing over would look the country over carefully with a field glass a tourist had given him the former season—a present of a splendid pair, but he had sawed them in two, the pair being too heavy to carry around.

He had traveled in this way for a long time, and as he looked over a ridge he saw a little clump of cedar down on the canyon side, which made a very inviting place for a deer to lie. He looked long and carefully at every tree and bush, endeavoring to locate the deer, but he failed to see him, so he retraced his steps a few yards. Then being careful to keep the top of the ridge between him and the canyon, he went along to a point opposite the cedar park, and then, going carefully up to the summit again, he took a long and careful scrutiny of the trees. He could see nothing, however, so holding his rifle in readiness, he kicked a large rock down the hillside, expecting every moment to see the buck get out.

eaves don't count."

When Councilman Korsmeier moved that the city attorney prepare a formal amendment to the ordinance, Mr. Eaton said he would like to raise a question of order.

"Since the council just adopted a valid resolution," he stormed, "it therefore is superfluous and a waste of public money to go to the expense of amending the ordinance."

When the motion came to a vote, Mr. Eaton said "no" again and stated that it would mean "the further confusion of the city and a further breakdown of zoning in Sierra Madre."

The matter came up indirectly as a result of Dr. Milton

Valois' building operations being halted by the city. Dr. Valois, who is constructing a combined residence and dentist office at 460 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, is expected to appear before the Planning Commission this evening for a clarification on what he can and cannot do under his recent variance. Part of his problem is said to involve this sideyard provision.

Hold Late Thanksgiving Dinner for Family

Because Mr. Neutzel was in Chicago on Thanksgiving, the Henry B. Neutzel entertained 26 members of their family at a belated Thanksgiving dinner Sunday evening, Nov. 25, at their new home, 609 W. Sierra Madre boulevard. Sierra Madres present included Mr. and Mrs. Woodson F. Jones and Mrs. Mary Collins.

Mark Welscher Notes 91st Birthday

A special Thanksgiving Day family dinner honored Mark Welscher of 542 Ramona, who celebrated his 91st birthday Tuesday, Nov. 27. Mr. Welscher came to Sierra Madre in 1909.

Meanwhile, the councilmen agreed that the Edison Company should go ahead with installing an additional 10,000-lumen light and pole on the northern tip of the Kersting Court Triangle. Although it already had been authorized, Robert Green of the Edison Company reported that because of the steel shortage a second pole could not be found immediately.

The council said Mr. Green should use the pole that was removed from the northwest corner of Sierra Madre boulevard and Baldwin when the sidewalk was put in for the "blind spot."

HOSPITAL GUILD NETS $80,000 AT DOLL FAIR

The Sierra Madre Guild of the Children's Hospital, at its regular luncheon meeting held Wednesday, Nov. 27, learned that the Doll Fair, held recently for the benefit of the Hospital, made $80,000 in one day.

The local Guild had the soft drink concession at the Fair. The ladies, who met at the home of Mrs. E. W. Carver, 257 E. Montecito, this month, spent the afternoon sewing on baby jackets for the Hospital.

CRANBERRY SAUCE IN THREE FAVORITE STYLES
Delicious cranberry sauce is one of the easiest things in the world to cook. And you'll enjoy making your own favorite style to serve with fall and winter meals.

Actually, there seem to be three different styles of cranberry sauce that folks like. And it's the way the basic ingredients—cranberries, water and sugar—are put together and cooked that makes the difference in the final product.

When we get a call for a recipe for cranberry sauce, we ask the lady to tell us how she wants the sauce to look. One of these three recipes is almost certain to make her described favorite.

SAUCE WITH WHOLE BERRIES
If you like whole cranberries in a thick preserve-syrup, this is the recipe for you. The secret of this sauce is in cooking the sugar and water first and then putting the fruit into the boiling syrup just long enough to cook.

4 C. cranberries (1 lb.)
2 C. sugar
2 C. water
Boil sugar and water together for 5 minutes. Add cranberries and boil without stirring until the skins begin to pop open (about 5 min.). Turn off flame and allow sauce to cool in the saucepan.

MOLDED STRAINED SAUCE
This is more like a jelly. But putting the fruit through a sieve instead of a bag makes the juice thicker, and it contains part of the pulp in a finely divided form. This recipe seems to be the answer to calls for a "smooth cranberry sauce." And here's how it's done.

4 C. cranberries (1 lb.)
2 C. sugar
2 C. water
Wash and sort cranberries and cook in the water until skins pop open. Press through a sieve. Stir in sugar and boil rapidly for 3 minutes. Skim and pour into mold. Chill until firm.

OLD-FASHIONED CRANBERRY SAUCE
You'll want to make cranberry sauce this way if your favorite is one that's firm like jelly but has the berries in it, too.

4 C. cranberries (1 lb.)
1 C. boiling water
2 1/4 C. sugar
Wash and sort cranberries. Cover with boiling water and let stand 5 minutes. Drain and add 1 C. fresh boiling water. Cover and cook until berries are tender. Mash the fruit lightly. Add sugar and cook until the sauce drops heavily from edge of spoon (about 5 minutes).

MRS. PARKER HOME FROM CHILLY LECTURE TOUR EAST

Home after a five week film lecture tour of the Middle West, Mrs. Hjoridis Kittel Parker reports she experienced record-breaking weather conditions throughout the trip. Some unusual weather phenomenon—snow, sleet, or rain—greeted her on all seven of her opening lecture nights. Mrs. Parker, who offers films and talks on Norway, relates that in Chicago the weather was so severe she had to spend 2½ hours in a taxicab during a drive to Northpark College which should have taken only half an hour. "The snowflakes were as large as golf balls," the Sierra Madrean recalled.

Presenting "one-night stands" for 10 days in a row, Mrs. Parker was in a different city and five different states each night. She averaged two or three hours sleep during the intensive tour.

Results of the Kansas-Missouri flood still are much in evidence, Mrs. Parker remarked, and she passed miles and miles of abandoned and wrecked homes.

Commenting again on the extreme weather encountered on her lecture tour, Mrs. Parker pointed out that in Oconto, Wisconsin, the mercury dipped to a frigid 10 below zero. And that's cold even for a woman who is used to Norway's low temperatures.

The lecturer will travel to Denver in January for a few more speaking engagements and then return for a lecture tour of the West Coast. She is billed for an appearance in Fullerton on Jan. 10.

HENRY NORD AT HOSPITAL

Henry J. Nord, 463 N. Auburn, is a patient at Huntington Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Nord, a past master of the Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. and A.M., was stricken and rushed to the hospital last weekend.

'Flickering' Light Brings Fine of $2

A $2 fine was levied Saturday morning against Carol Cahill for a defective car tail-light.

Her father, William D. Cahill, told the court that he now has repaired the light, which was "flickering" because of a poor ground.

Truck Driver Forfeits Bail

Mrs. Martha Matoian, city garbage contractor, forfeited $5 bail last week on behalf of her son, Soroosh Matoian, who was cited for backing a disposal truck without due caution.

Trial had been set for last Saturday, but Mrs. Matoian, in effect, changed the "not guilty" plea to "guilty."

The disposal truck had been involved in a collision with a car driven by David B. Christie, 3105 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, Pasadena.

WCTU Meets Today To Plan Workshop

Harter WCTU will meet at 2 p.m. today, Nov. 29, at the home of Mrs. Albert J. Paus, 282 San Gabriel Court.

Plans will be completed for the all-day workshop to be held Dec. 6 at the First Baptist Church of Sierra Madre, 49 S. Baldwin avenue. Mrs. Paus asks that all members of the local WCTU be present at today's planning meeting.

City School Plans Annual Yule Play

Pupils of the first, second, and third grades at City School are now rehearsing for the annual Christmas program to be presented during the last week of school before the holidays.

Mrs. Matilda Smith, music teacher, has written the play which has as its theme the search for Santa Claus. The program will feature traditional Christmas music and children dressed as fairies, elves, animals, Christmas trees and snowflakes.

Room mothers are in charge of making costumes.

CAMERA TOPICS

By T. T. Holden

Evidence of what a youngster can do with a camera is brought out by this Graflex prize-winning picture made by 13-year-old James Edwards.

CAMERA AN IDEAL GIFT FOR YOUNGSTERS

Santa Claus is coming to town—and the kids are looking forward to all the usual gifts from Hop-along Cassidy outfits to dolls that are so real-life you could almost classify them as dependents on your income tax return. It won't be long, however, before these youngsters outgrow or tire of these things as their interests pass from an imaginary to a real world.

There is one gift, though, that will excite and delight a youngster—a gift that will start him on a hobby he can't outgrow—a camera. Besides being fun to use, a camera will make a valuable contribution to the education of a growing boy or girl. It teaches them to observe and stir their interest in many taken-for-granted things about them. It enlivens their imagination—a valuable asset as they grow older. And if the youngster is not lucky enough to have a talent in one of the manual arts such as painting or sculpturing, a camera gives him an opportunity to develop a worthwhile talent that depends only upon mental ability.

It would be a mistake, of course, to give a young boy or girl anything more complicated than a box camera to start. A box camera simplifies picture-taking to a push-button operation and allows him to concentrate on the picture subject.

Children as young as three years of age have been successfully taught to take pictures with a box camera. The ideal age, however, would be about seven and older because at that age a child can grasp the fundamentals of picture-taking with little difficulty.

You can make photography even more fun for them if you get them a small, inexpensive developing and printing kit to make their own pictures. Such kits can be bought in package form with all the necessary equipment for home picture-making.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB TO HEAR ABOUT ARAB RELIEF WORK

Mrs. Paul B. Johnson, 720 Skyland Drive, who returned last year after several months of helping administer relief to 200,000 Arab refugees in Palestine, will speak at Monday afternoon's meeting (Dec. 3) of the Sierra Madre Friendship Club. The meeting is set for 2:30 p.m. at the Parkhouse. Mrs. Johnson will present a background of the refugee situation and show color slides.

She and her husband went to Gaza, Palestine, in December, 1949, as members of the American Friends Service Committee team which was responsible for administering relief under the United Nations.

Mr. Johnson was director of the Quaker operation, which included more than 50 volunteer team members from a dozen different countries.

"My own responsibility was the Registry Office where we maintained the family records of the 200,000 refugees residing in the small area, under Egyptian military control," Mrs. Johnson said in previewing her remarks for next Monday.

The area, known as the "Gaza Strip," is a piece of land 25 miles long and not more than 5 miles wide at the widest point.

Mrs. Johnson explained that on May 1, 1950, the United Nations took over direct administration of the refugee program and the volunteer agencies were able to withdraw.

"A number of the Quaker team members, including my husband and myself, were asked to stay on with the UN," she said. "This we were able to do for three months. But we had to return in August of 1950, for my husband was on leave of absence from his job with the AFSC in Pasadena."

(Mr. Johnson is regional director of the Friends, with offices in Pasadena.)

At present he is on a survey trip to the Middle East to see what possibilities there are at this time for further work by the Friends in this troubled area.

Ballet Dancers, Singers May Try Out for Opera

Young singers and ballet dancers of Sierra Madre are invited to try out for Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana," to be the first production of the newly-organized Pasadena Grand Opera Association.

A planning meeting for the opera was held last week under the direction of Pierre de Jean Ceraille, assisted by Caroline Converse, chairman. Sierra Madreans interested in try-out information may inquire at the association's offices, 12 S. Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena.

Lecturer to Tell Of Middle East

"The Muddle in the Middle East," will be the subject this evening, Nov. 29, of Thomas B. W. Allen, author and lecturer, as he presents another in the Community Forum Lecture series at Monrovia-Duarte High School. The lecture is set for 7:45 in the school auditorium.

During World War II, Mr. Allen was sent on confidential missions to the Middle East by the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and was later "loaned" to the Iranian government as a member of the American Financial Commission. With his appointment as director general of finances for Azerbaijan, Mr. Allen became directly responsible for the welfare of some 5,000,000 people.

Highlights of his service in Iran were the Tehran Conference, the capture of German saboteurs in hiding among hostile tribes, and the Soviet-inspired revolution and "Peoples' Republic."

PCC to Face Tyler in Jr. Bowl Game

Hopalong Cassidy will take time off Saturday, Dec. 8, from his work of shooting badmen to be Grand Marshal of the 6th annual Junior Rose Bowl football game in Pasadena.

Hopalong will flip a coin, or spin his six-shooter, to determine which team will kick-off or receive the ball in the opening play of game between the leading junior college football squads of the nation.

FIRE FLAMES

Too many calls this month to be pleasing. Not that we are not willing to answer them—oh, no—it's just that we are noticing the difference. At this time last year we had received only six for the single month. It means something.

It simply means that Sierra Madre is no longer just a "hick town" with a light population. Our populace reaches far and near—some of the runs from the stationhouse as far away as 1½ miles.

Who would believe you if you told them that there are now homes with people living in them where only one year ago you picked grapes from the vine.

It means that we are forced to prepare for better fire protection—either with more stations or better equipment.

The recent calls to fight fires had no costly results. Fortunately and with some fraction of efficiency, the fires were extinguished in great haste by the early arrival of some part of the fire department.

Three of these fires were caused by the poor construction of fireplaces that had been built in the past when rigid building inspection was little thought of. It is advisable to be very careful if you should use a fireplace that is of the age before building inspection.

Despite the many calls we have had, we are still proud to boast of a low fire loss. That's what counts. We must continue to realize that we are not immune from the dangers of fire.

What starts as a small fire can develop to seriousness in just a few minutes. Fire fighters realize this and try to get to a fire at the earliest possible time. Seconds count when reporting a fire. Don't wait! When a fire starts, get word to the fire department as soon as possible. We will be glad to respond, and more pleased if we arrive and find the fire is under control or "out."

Give us a chance to get there early if you can and we'll be grateful to you. There are always those who will criticize and say it was all wrong—but we are accustomed to that.

At this time of year, the firemen are very busy trying to get the ticket campaign over with and to get donations enough to finance the filling of the may stockings for the kiddies, who will be at the City Park on Christmas Eve.

The one and only soliciting act the firemen do is now in progress. This provides for the traditional Christmas Eve Party at the Park and the annual Easter Egg Roll at Easter time. Also many baskets of substantial food are provided for those who would not otherwise enjoy such food.

We ask that residents who are acquainted with our annual affair be kind enough to explain it all to the newcomers.

There are many stockings to be sewed and if there are any persons who would enjoy running a few of these over their sewing machine, we would be only too glad to deliver some of the already cut nettings. We are very grateful to the boys at the tie factory for their time and effort in cutting this material for us. If it were not for their acts—someone would have a tiring job of cutting.

LOOK OUT FOR A FIREMAN AT YOUR DOOR. HE WILL HAVE TICKETS FOR THE BIGGEST PARTY OF THE YEAR. IN THE MEANTIME, KEEP THE FIRES OUT.

Planetarium Shows 'Christmas Star'

"The Christmas Star," Griffith Park Observatory's annual yuletide planetarium feature, will be presented for the first time this year at 3 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 1, the LA City Recreation and Park Department has announced.

The one-hour holiday program, which will reproduce the heavens as they appeared at the time of the birth of Christ, believed by historians to be the year 7 B.C., will be offered in the 500-seat planetarium theater at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday, and at Saturday and Sunday matinees throughout December.

JAPANESE POTTERY EXHIBIT TO OPEN

An exhibition of contemporary Japanese pottery, assembled largely from local owners, as well as the extensive collection of Neil Rawlinson of Tokyo, will open at the Pasadena Art Institute, 46 N. Los Robles, on Dec. 1 and extend through Jan. 15.

According to institute officials, the 20th century has witnessed a flourishing of the crafts of Japan, in particular the revival of folk pottery which has reached a "high degree of technical excellence and has exerted world-wide influence."

NEW NIGHT-PARKING LAW WOULD ALLOW EXCEPTIONS

An amendment to the overnight street parking ordinance, authorizing special permits for "hardship cases" and their guests, was ordered drawn up by the City Council Tuesday night.

The proposed change would allow residents not having off-street parking spaces to get permits to leave their cars parked on the streets for a period not to exceed six months. An investigation charge, for the police to determine if there actually are no parking facilities, was set at $1 a month or any fraction thereof.

The council said that, with this amendment in effect, the present ordinance prohibiting other overnight parking will be enforced. In view of the many cases where nothing except the street is available for parking, the Police Department has not been enforcing the law which makes it illegal to have a car parked on the street longer than half an hour between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m.

Chief Gordon G. McMillan had recommended the amendment as a means of aiding enforcement and providing for "hardship cases." From a police standpoint, he has said, it is desirable to have the streets clear of cars during some period of the 24-hour day.

City Administrator R. Merritt Baker pointed out Tuesday night that in Monterey Park, where the "permit system" has been tried, petty thefts were reduced 70 per cent. Stolen cars are more easily recovered, it was said.

Permits will be issued for six-month periods, where the need is shown, such permits to end on June 30 and Dec. 31 of each year.

For overnight guests, the councilmen ruled, temporary permits may be issued for periods not to exceed three days.

Blaze Damages House Fireplace

Fire partially spoiled Thanksgiving day for the R. A. Swopes of 74 Vista Circle Drive. Sierra Madre volunteer firemen were called out at 7:45 and extinguished the blaze which was started from the fire in the fireplace. Fire Chief James C. Heasley estimated the damage at $25.

Driver Fined $5 For Not Stopping

Carmel Sanchez, 105 N. Lima, was fined $5 in city court Saturday morning for failure to make a boulevard stop. Two other charges—one for having no car registration visible—were dismissed by City Judge John C. Mead.

CHURCH IDEA From Page One

Henry Hosmer, helped settle Sierra Madre on faith. She said the tiny church should be "quaint in structure with a sign 'Faith of Our Fathers' over the door."

"It should be a place where Protestant, Catholic, and Jew, alike, could worship," Mrs. Shearer explained. "Seen by each road leading into town, the church would be a place where old friends meet."

TREATMENT OF CONSTIPATION Don't Try To Be Your Own Doctor

Every doctor like every layman has his own pet treatment for constipation. Each bases his practice on his experience; the chief difference is that the doctor's experience is much broader, based on observation of hundreds of cases and conditioned by years of training in interpretation of his observations. The layman on the other hand qualifies as an expert merely by observation of his own case. This does not mean that the layman will always be wrong and the doctor always right. But just as you take your car to a man who is skilled in repairing your particular kind of car, so you will go to a doctor who is skilled in colon therapy if constipation vexes you.

Diagnosis Must Come Before Treatment

Fourteen years professional experience in colon therapy has given the writer an opportunity to observe and study practically every common type of colon disorder as well as many which are less common. It has long been a source of diagnostic satisfaction to be able to study a patient's condition first-hand by use of the Dierker colon therapy instrument. This equipment enables the doctor and nurse to observe and judge the colon's condition by seeing the nature of the excretion as it passes before the eyes through the glass tube. This is valuable diagnostic information without which intelligent therapy would be impossible.

Passage of blood clots,ropy mucous shreds and clumps, coarse particles (especially with children), irritants, worms and larva may be seen. Usually the patient does not know about or fails to mention these conditions which may all have an important bearing on the problem of constipation. Many times this information is even more important than X-ray diagnosis, but in any case it is best when correlated with X-ray and fluoroscopic studies. (Adv.)

Kiwanians Have Theater Party

Sierra Madre Kiwanians and their wives took in an evening at the theater Tuesday, traveling to Pasadena to witness "The Madwoman of Chailiot," now playing at the Playhouse.

Following the performance, the Sierra Madreans returned to the Frank Spencer home for refreshments.

Infant Edna Mary Received by Church

Four-month-old Edna Mary Dumas was formally received by the First Baptist Church Sunday.

The infant was "presented to the Lord" by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dumas, who recited the dedicatory vows to rear their daughter in a Christian family. The Rev. A. J. Jacobson, pastor, officiated at the service.

'CAR PROWLERS' OPERATE HERE

Police this week were alerted for "car prowlers" who tried to operate here Thanksgiving evening.

While standing on his girl friend's front porch at 11:35 p.m., Ray Picard, 15 Miramonte, noticed a car go by slowly, turn the corner of Victoria Lane and Baldwin, and let a boy out.

He told police the boy, who was blond and wore an Air Force leather jacket, walked up the street toward his car and was bending over it and apparently about to open it when he noticed them on the porch.

Picard said the youth ran quickly back to the other car and was gone before he could get the license number.
